

PEARL Members Show their Support of the New Technician Certification Program.

Since the level I certification application became available in May 2014, PEARL has received over 40 technician applications from 10 different PEARL member companies. “This just demonstrates to me how supportive and how much our membership wanted this program” said Doug Powell, who chairs the PEARL Technical Certification program. “We have already started development of Level II certification and hope to have it available to members in 2016” according to Powell. If you want to complete an application for Level I certification, visit the PEARL website and complete an online application. The certification fee is $195.00 and can now be paid online using Paypal.
